ROMAN BATHS. The Roman Baths, used from the 1st to the 4th century, are believed to have covered an area of 7 acres. These baths were discovered in 1755, but the most important excavations have been made since 1878. The great rectangular bath is in a remarkable state of preservation, with the original pavements and flooring of lead, now 20 feet below the street level and open to the sky, with the ruins of twelve great piers that once supported the roof.
